

Colours

Using the notion of colour as a perception, I redefine colour as a perception of a truth, a fact and an issue.
Each set of complementary colour represents various prevalent issues in the current day.

The first of the series is Green & Red which represents environmental conscience.

This short video shows the evolution of Mother Nature, from its birth to the disruption by humankind and the end of its cycle.

